Definition Dogdance

Dogdance is separated in two independent divisions

- Dogdance Freestyle (FS)
- Dogdance Heelwork to music (HTM).

Definition Dogdance Freestyle

In Freestyle a team can freely choose from all tricks and heelwork positions and create a choreography. In addition there will further be no restrictions and limitations of elements!

Definition Dogdance Heelwork to Music

In heelwork the dog should be in one of 18 defined heelwork positions at least 75 % of the choreography.

- The dog always stays in the same position in relation to the handler, either standing or moving in any direction.
- The aim of a HTM presentation is a dog working close to the handler.
- The distance between dog and handler should be preferably small.
- Physical contact between dog and handler in heelwork positions is not required.
- A potentially high consistency in keeping heelwork positions is desirable.
- A heelwork position always should be recognizable as a heelwork position.

Transitions from one heelwork position to another or back into the same position are seen as Freestyle elements and therefore be counted into the 25% of FS elements in a HTM class. Crawling, limping, jumping, standing or walking on the hind legs always belong to the 25% of FS elements.

Offering HTM classes in Dogdance competitions stays voluntary.

A special package rule has to be obeyed for all official classes (see further below).

Package rule for HTM & Freestyle

An organiser must offer at least one of the packages below if he is offering any official classes at his competition.

The package has to be declared clearly when publishing the Competition on the DDI-website and the Headjudge checks it at the Competition.

Special Competitions

Special competitions can be applied to the executive committee of DDI.

This gives organisers the opportunity to offer only individual classes, for example if the basic conditions for a competition don't allow to offer a full package.

An application for a special competition can be sent to the committee of the DDI prior to the announcement of the competition.

Health of the dog not considered (max. 20 points)

- The health and well-being of the dog shall never be jeopardized. This is at any given moment the responsibility of the handler.
- There can be points deducted if there are visible physical impairments during the execution of a move (for example dog breaks of in the middle of a move, buckles in the legs, is hesitating to start certain moves, avoids further repetitions, etc.) or if the dog is showing problems (such as struggling to return to a fluent movement, irregular movements, dog does not move smoothly “ticking” or limping) after a strenuous element/move.
- Jumps that are not adapted to the floor (for example slippery carpet) and dog is landing badly, slides or falls.
- Dangerous props, dog is sliding or falling of, as the props are slippery or wobbly, ...
- In the class Seniors & Handicap the judges will take into account the Handicap of the dog which was handed to them prior to the competition. If any handicaps or problems in the movement that are related to the mentioned condition are visible, the judges will not deduct for them.
- But also in the class Seniors & Handicap any problem getting worse due to performed moves will lead to deductions.

Misconduct in the ring (max. 20 points)

The following misconducts can lead to deductions from the moment the team enters the ring until it leaves the ring:

- Mental pressure: applying pressure on the dog, physical intimidation or restricting the dogs movements using body language.
- Touching in a manipulative way: Pushing or moving the dog into a position, prevent him from freely moving, etc.
- Leaving and re-entering the ring before the start of the music or after the end of the routine by dog and or owner will lead to deductions. This is after the team has entered the ring the first time after the judges have given the ring clear signal. An exception is if the judges signal the team, that it can leave the ring (for example when there are problems with the music, etc.)

From entrance of the ring until the start of the music & from end of the routine until leaving the ring:

A friendly interaction or friendly touching the dog is allowed as long as the dog clearly likes it.

Carrying the dog into the ring before the start and carrying the dog out of the ring after the end of the routine is allowed.

The following rule only is valid from the start of the music until the end of the music!

Any active touching of the dog (initiated by the handler) during the routine will lead to deductions.

Disqualifications

Any disqualification must be by the unanimous decision of the judges. Disqualification is not impugnable! After a disqualification, it is at judges' discretion whether to allow the team to finish their routine as a training round or to ask them leave the ring immediately. Even if the routine can be finished as a training round, no food is allowed in the ring (toys are ok)!

Leaving the ring

- Leaving the ring by the dog during the routine lead to a disqualification, whereas leaving and re-entering the ring by the dog before and after the routine only leads to point deductions (Misconduct in the ring) at the discretion of the judges.
- An exception is, if the judges signal the team that it can leave the ring again (for example when there are problems with the music).
- All four paws of the dog need to stay in the ring at any time. If the dog passes the line with one paw, he will be disqualified.
- This rule can be enforced by the ring steward using a line at the entrance and exit of the ring.
- A paw on the line will count as in the ring.
- In case of doubt the decision should be in favour of the team.
- The ring steward is responsible for surveillance of the line.

Record booklet

Who needs a record booklet

- To enter in Fun classes, no record booklet is needed!
- To be able to verify compliance with the rules for moving up in classes, each team must have a record booklet to be eligible to enter in an official class 1-3 and Seniors & Handicap.
- The record booklet is valid for one team composed of one handler and one dog.
- If two handlers compete with the same dog, they will need two separate record booklets and the dog can therefore enter two different classes with the two handlers.
- There is a record booklet for FS and new a record booklet for HTM (marked by a HTM sticker).
- As of now the results will not be recorded in the same booklet any more. (Already recorded scores may be transferred into the new HTM booklet at the next competition by a judge).

Ordering a record booklet

- The record booklet must be ordered in good time (allow 3-4 weeks for order and postage) before the first entry in an official class. It can be ordered online using the form „Record booklet“ found on www.dogdance.info
- The record booklet costs 15 Euros for the booklet and postage.
- Members of the DDI will receive all record booklets for their dogs for free!

- Competitors arriving at a competition without a record booklet can only present their routine in a Funclass.
- Prerequisites for foreign participants in a national OEC/Crufts qualification:
The participating team must be in possession of a valid DDI licence/record booklet.

As a team, which has already started officially according to other regulations, can for the first start estimate its class individually according to DDI regulation, a start in a qualification tournament must not be this first start.

- Competitors have to make sure that they are eligible in the class they have entered in accordance with the rules of the DDI!

Entries in the record booklets

- The organiser enters the achieved results, the percentage and moving-up points in the record booklet.
- The results of a competition will be cited in the record booklet only if the competition was held under the rules of the DDI!
- Starts in the classes Trio, Quartett and Juniors will not be recorded in the booklets.
- Only an official judge can sign the record booklets and validate the results!

- It should be clearly visible that the handler is in control when the dog engages with the props.
- The props can be used for moves, for signalling, as a target, etc.

- Chewing on a prop, playing with it, destroying it, etc. will also lead to point deductions.
- The use of props should support and enhance the presentation and interpretation of the music!

Set-Up

- There are only as many props allowed as the handler/helper can carry into the ring in one go by himself.
- To do so, the dog can be left outside the ring and be collected after the set-up of the props.
- The dog can also enter the ring with the handler at the same time and stay in the ring during the set-up.

At the end of the routine

- The dog must not carry or pull a prop out of the ring. This could be seen as a (play)reward in the ring and would lead to a disqualification.
- After the routine, the dog is not allowed to interact in any way with the prop(s)! He should not touch it, do a move with or on it, play with it, etc. This would lead to a disqualification.
- At the end of the routine, dog and handler leave the ring without the props.
- The props will then be carried out of the ring by the ring-steward.

- If there is no consensus about the proposed judges, the person responsible for judges has the final say.
- The organiser of title contests pledges the judges and sets up according contracts with them. In order to guarantee a smooth schedule, the person responsible for judges supports the organiser by checking the proposals of judges in good time—meaning that answers regarding approval/disapproval of judge proposals are received within 14 days after request. Should there be no answer from the person responsible for judges, it is taken as tacit consent.
